DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claim 35 is objected to because of the following informalities:

Claim 35, line 2, "trimester" is suggested to be changed to -- triester --.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-38, 43-52 and 54-58 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Soehnen et al. (EP 1270657) in view of Wideman et al. (US Patent 6,300,449).

Soehnen et al. disclose a rubber composition containing 30 to 90 phr of styrene butadiene copolymer, 10 to 70 phr of diene rubbers, 20 to 100 phr of silica, 1 to 15 phr of a silane coupling agent, 5 to 60 phr of a softener selected from naphthenic mineral oil softeners, MES and TDAE, 0.5 to 2.0 phr of sulphur, and vulcanization accelerators (claim 1, [0030]).

However, Soehnen et al. are silent on the use of polylimonene resin.

Wideman et al. disclose a resin composition consisting essentially of a polymer which is the reaction product of the polymerization reaction between dicyclopentadiene and limonene, said resin having a softening point ranging from about 50 to about 220°C. and a molecular weight ranging from about 500 to about 42,000 wherein 13.3 phr of limonene was used to provide a polymeric resins which are particularly useful in improving traction of the rubber when used in tire treads (claim 1, Sample 3, abstract). In light of such benefit, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to make the rubber composition with the limonene resin with the expected success.

The limitations of claims 8-11, 16-17, 30-31 and 36 can be found in Soehnen et al. at claim 1, where it discloses the 5 to 60 phr of a softener.

The limitations of claims 12-15, 32-35 and 49-52 can be found in Soehnen et al. at paragraph [0025], where it discloses the 5 to 20 phr of rapeseed oils.

The limitations of claims 18 and 37 can be found in Soehnen et al. at claim 4, where it discloses the natural rubber.

The limitations of claims 19-23 and 38 can be found in Soehnen et al. at claim 1, where it discloses the 20 to 100 phr of silica.

The limitations of claim 24 can be found in Soehnen et al. at paragraph [0026], where it discloses the carbon black.

The limitations of claim 25 can be found in Soehnen et al. at paragraph [0031], where it discloses the process.

The limitations of claims 43-48 and 54-58 can be found in Soehnen et al. at paragraphs [0034]-[0035], where it discloses the winter tire and tread.
